Since the E-303 launching in 1978, the high-power integrated amp is at the core of Accuphase product lineup. The Accuphase E-480, 180W/ch Integrated Amplifier is the succession model of E-470. The Preamplifier section features the further evolved AAVA that enables an accurate volume control. At power amplifier section, a damping factor is further enhanced with precise and dynamic speaker ...

Accuphase E480 Integrated Amplifier □ Doug Brady HiFi

I've owned more than two dozen amplifiers already in my 20 years as an audio enthusiast and these include expensive audiophile models I bought and sold after a year of use but I never got to dispose of my Accuphase E-302. It doesn't sound as sweet as higher-priced British audiophile brands but its overall quality beats most brands I've owned. It has the low frequency depth, mid-range punch and ...

Current feedback amplifier topology assures ...

Accuphase E270 Integrated Amplifier □ Doug Brady HiFi

The E-380 represents the latest step in an evolutionary refinement of the 300 series integrated amp, featuring 20% more power (now rated at 120 watts per channel into eight-ohm speakers) and an increased damping factor of 500, driven from heavy duty push-pull bipolar transistors. The internal layout is very much dual mono, with very well specified power supply transformers and reserve ...

Accuphase E-800 Precision Integrated Stereo Amplifier ...

It's eleven years since I reviewed the Accuphase E-213 for this magazine. That was then the entry-level integrated amplifier; the next model up the line, the E-308, was similar in rated power output but a noticeably more accomplished performer, and represented quite a significant jump in performance, back in the day. So I approached this review of the current equivalent, the E-370, with high ...

Accuphase E-370 integrated amplifier | Hi-Fi+

Accuphase released the E-303 integrated amplifier way back in 1978. Back then it cost 245,000 Japanese Yen, roughly equal to $3750 AUD or the price of a new small car, 40 years ago. You can imagine the equivalent cost now, allowing for inflation. I calculated it an eye-watering roughly $20K AUD. Whatever the price, Accuphase really hit it out of the park with this model and the E-303 and E ...
